

MHS—Access Philanthropy Logic Model

Inputs: To preserve, maintain, and restore historical evidence for future generations and make information, artifacts, and places accessible to all Minnesotans, the activities of the Minnesota Historical Society (MHS) are supported by Legislative appropriations and other funding sources, as well as administrative functions including development, finance, membership, grantmaking, marketing and communications, partnerships, and website development.

Activities

Outputs

Outcomes (immediate — intermediate — long term)

Ultimate outcome

Access and Education:

Minnesota Historical Society, in partnership with Access Philanthropy, provides training workshops and consultation in development planning and grants proposal preparation.

of historical societies and cultural organizations trained of development plans created by trained organizations of grants applied by trained organizations of grants awarded to trained organizations funders supporting trained organizations

Historical societies and cultural organizations increase capacity to apply for funding.

- Improved development planning
- Improved communications
- Improved prospecting

Historical societies and cultural organizations diversify and strengthen funding/support base.

- Improved corporate partnerships
- Improved infrastructure to support fundraising
- Improved fundraising
 - Individual
 - Institutional
 - Online

Students, teachers, participants, users, visitors, and all Minnesotans build an appreciation for history

Diverse individuals, communities, organizations, donors, the Minnesota Department of Education, and the Minnesota Legislature see MHS as a valuable resource for teaching and preserving history and provide ongoing support to the Society to continue its work

Minnesotans and other users of MHS demonstrate that they value history in their personal lives and society at large, and they pursue opportunities to preserve historical evidence and to learn more about history